Soil Fertility, Research, and Data Sharing Meeting
SERA-6 • NRSP11 • MASTPAWG
Morgantown, West Virginia

This joint meeting brings together soil fertility laboratory directors, researchers, and data specialists to advance laboratory methods, research coordination, and data sharing. Attendance includes university soil testing laboratories, extension specialists, and regional and national soil fertility networks, representing professionals engaged in soil testing and applied research. Vendor participation promotes meaningful, technical interaction in a professional, science-focused setting, offering a direct connection to those working in soil testing, analytical methods, and data-driven decision-making.
